Email is through their contact page on their websites.

A. A two-part presentation of how to deal with your congressmen and senators' offices using www.house.gov and www.senate.gov, and the efficacy of using www.financeprotectionagency.gov to resolve consumer problems and questions.

B. The second part dealt with the evolution of politics in the House for the last 20 years and how it led to government shutdowns, intense polarization between the parties, the "Do Nothing" Congress and the formation of the Tea Party among voters and the Freedom Caucus in the House.

C. Also, the use of the app and website: www.countable.us/ to track legislation, votes, and most of the information you could need about congressional actions as an activist.
